Rookies of the Month

Month	Player
January	Vladimir Tarasenko, St. Louis
February	Jonathan Huberdeau, Florida
March	Jake Muzzin, Los Angeles
April	Nail Yakupov, Edmonton

Steven Stamkos (top) of the Tampa Bay Lightning had 10 goals and 10 assists for 20 points in 14 games in February to earn First Star of the Month honors. Stamkos scored goals in six straight games (seven goals in all) from February 16 through 26 for the longest streak in the NHL in 2012-13.

Toronto's Joffrey Lupul (right) returned strong after missing six weeks with a broken forearm and earned First Star of the Week for the week ending March 31. Lupul had five goals, including three game winners, and four assists in four games as the Maple Leafs posted a record of 3-0-1.

Brian Elliott of St. Louis (far right) was hot down the stretch with an 11-2-0 record, a 1.28 goals-against average and a .948 save percentage. His strong play helped the Blues secure the fourth playoff seed in the Western Conference. He was named April's Second Star of the Month.

NHL Goaltenders

2013-14 Goaltender Register

Note: The 2013-14 Goaltender Register lists all active NHL goaltenders, every goaltender drafted in the 2013 Entry Draft, goaltenders on NHL Reserve Lists and other goaltenders.

Trades and roster changes are current as of August 12, 2013.

To calculate a goaltender's goals-against per game average (Avg), divide goals against (GA) by minutes played (Mins) and multiply this result by 60.

Abbreviations: GP – games played; W – wins; L – losses; O/T – overtime losses/ties; Mins – minutes played; GA – goals against; SO – shutouts; Avg – goals-against-per-game average;  – league-leading total
♦ – member of Stanley Cup-winning team.

Prospect Register begins on page 281.
Retired Goaltender Index begins on page 659.
League Abbreviations are listed on page 670.

Retired Players, Goaltenders and Coaches Research Project

Throughout the Retired Players and Retired Goaltenders sections of this book, you will notice many players with a bullet (•) by their names. These players, according to our records, are deceased. The editors recognize that our information on the death dates of NHLers is incomplete. If you have documented information on the passing of any player not marked with a bullet (•) in this edition, we would like to hear from you. We also welcome information on deceased NHL head coaches. Please send this information to:

NHL Goal of the Year, 2012-13

Early in overtime in a game between Boston and Washington on March 5, 2013, Capitals forward Eric Fehr split the Bruins defense of Denis Seidenberg and Dougie Hamilton. As Fehr was falling to the ice, he managed to put a shot past Tuukka Rask high to the glove side to win the game for Washington 4-3 at 4:23 of OT. Fehr's play headed the list of Top 10 goals of the year on the NHL Network's countdown.
